FCC to retain 2nd adjacent channel restrictions.

 LPFM that will severely limit the number of LPFM stations that can be licensed nationwide. In RM-9242 I showed how it would be necessary to delete the 2nd and 3rd adjacent channel restrictions to allow any great number of LPFM stations to be created and I showed how this could be accomplished without causing interference. The FCC's own receiver study later proved this was possible. However, under the rules the FCC intends to vote in on Jan 20th, they will drop only the 3rd adjacent channel restrictions and keep in force the 2nd adjacent channel restrictions. This means that, even with the reduced power of 100 watts, very very few stations will be available in the larger markets where the spectrum is tight and the need is greatest.

If You Do Not relax 2nd adjacent channel restrictions You Must Enact "Enact "The 2000 Radio Broadcast Regression Act"

(a) Aid, counsel, assistance, etc., to small business concerns

The essence of the American economic system of private enterprise is free competition.

Only through full and free competition can free markets, free entry into business, and opportunities for the expression and growth of personal initiative and individual judgment be assured. The preservation and expansion of such competition is basic not only to the economic well-being but to the security of this Nation. Such security and well-being cannot be realized unless the actual and potential capacity of small business is encouraged and developed. It is the declared policy of the Congress that the Government should aid, counsel, assist, and protect, insofar as is possible, the interests of small-business concerns in order to preserve free competitive enterprise, to insure that a fair proportion of the total purchases and contracts or subcontracts for property and services for the Government

(including but not limited to contracts or subcontracts for maintenance, repair, and construction) be placed with small-business enterprises, to insure that a fair proportion of the total sales of Government property be made to such enterprises, and to maintain and strengthen the overall economy of the Nation.
